

Patients should attend their clinic appointments as normal

PRESS RELEASE

Saturday 13th May 2017

The Dudley Group NHS Foundation Trust has not been hit by the cyber attack on the NHS and our clinics and appointment processes are running as usual.

Patients should attend their clinic appointments as normal. They do not need to telephone our switchboard to check.

However, patients who wish to contact us will not be able to do it by email. External emails to and from the Trust have been temporarily disabled as a precaution.
