The Dudley Group named as one of best places to work in NHS

The Dudley Group has been named as one of the top NHS employers by the Health Service Journal and Nursing Times.

The list is a celebration of NHS organisations that have worked hard to promote great staff engagement and create an environment where people can enjoy their work.

“We’re absolutely thrilled to hear that we’ve been named as one of the very best employers in the whole of the NHS,” said Paula Clark, Chief Executive of The Dudley Group.

“Our staff truly are our most valuable asset, and we’ve worked really hard over the past year to make sure our workforce know how important they are to the organisation.

“Thanks to our hard working and motivated staff, we are one of the top performing trusts in the country, so it’s more important than ever that our staff know how much we appreciate their commitment and dedication.”

The Best Places to Work list is compiled every year using data from the annual NHS staff survey and looks at seven areas key to a happy workplace: leadership and planning, corporate culture and communication, role satisfaction, work environment, relationship with supervisor, training, development and resources, employee engagement and satisfaction.
