

Dying matters workshop

Thursday 8 May, online 6:30pm until 8:00pm

Purpose of event

Encourage open conversations about death, dying, and grief

Share information on end-of-life support services

Highlight community bereavement services

Outcomes

Help people feel more comfortable discussing death, dying, and grief

Increase understanding of end-of-life processes and practical steps after death

10

attendees and the opportunity to hear from:

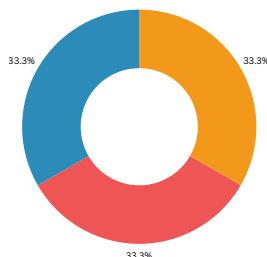

Dr Poonam Tank – GP and Clinical lead for end of life DGFT

Donna Dudley and Helen Hubbard – Nurses on Mary Stevens Hospice In-patient Unit

Lucy Porter – Business owner and director of H.Porter & Sons independent family funeral directors

Kerrie Jones – Bereavement Services Lead at Mary Stevens Hospice

How informative did you find the workshop?

5 4 3 2 1

(5 – very informative, 1 – not very informative)

33.3%

No

66.6%

Yes

Do you feel the information provided in the workshop has given you more knowledge on the end of life journey?

What did you think of the workshop?

"I learned alot about the process of dying and the support available "

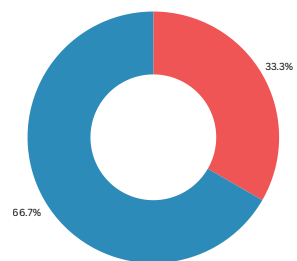

"It was interesting to hear about the range of teams that are involved in the end of life journey"

"I found it very informative "

'more opportunity for discussion' and 'to hear from a broader range of roles'

Is there anything else that you would have like included within the online workshop?

How likely would you be to recommend other people to attend the workshop?

5 4 3 2 1

(5 – I would definitely recommend, 1 – I wouldn't recommend)

Is there anything else you would like to share about the workshop?

"I wish I had attended this before my parents went through the dying process. Are you likely to repeat it as think my partner would benefit from hearing it for their mother's longer term needs."